23.1 Current corporate income tax

The Bank has the obligation to pay corporate income tax ("CIT") at the rate of 20% of taxable profits according to Circular No. 78/2014/TT-BTC which became effective from 2 August 2014.

The Bank' tax reports are subject to examination by the tax authorities. Because the application of tax laws and regulations to many types of transactions is susceptible to varying interpretations, amount reported in the separate financial statements could be changed at a later date upon final determination by the tax authorities.

Current corporate income tax payables are determined based on taxable income of the accounting period. Taxable income differs from the one reported in the separate statement of profit and loss since taxable income excludes incomes which are taxable or expenses which are deducted in prior period due to the differences between the Bank's accounting policies and the tax regulations, and also excludes non-taxable income and non-deductible expenses. The current corporate income tax payable of the Bank are calculated based on the statutory tax rates applicable at the end of accounting period.

The Bank has exposure to the following risks from financial instruments:

- ▶ credit risk;
- ▶ liquidity risk; and
- ▶ market risk.

This note presents information about the Bank's exposure to each of the above risks, the Bank's objectives, policies and processes for measuring and managing risk, and the Bank's management of capital.

Risk management framework

The Board of Directors ("BOD") has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of risk management framework and is ultimately responsible for the quality and effectiveness of the Bank's risk management. To facilitate this oversight function, the Bank's BOD has established an Assets and Liabilities Committee ("ALCO") and a Risk Committee ("RCO") which are responsible for developing and monitoring key risk management policies for specific areas authorized by the BOD and periodically reporting to the BOD on their activities. These committees include both voting and non-voting members.

The Bank's risk management framework is established to form key principles in managing and controlling significant risks arising from the Bank's activities. Based on this, specific policies and regulations for each type of risk are established to assist the Bank in analyzing and determining appropriate risk limits, controlling and monitoring measures and ensuring adherence to the limits.

Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions, products and services offered. The Bank, through its training and management standards and procedures, aims to develop a disciplined and constructive control environment, in which all employees understand their roles and obligations.

42. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT POLICIES (continued)

42.1 Credit risk

The Bank is subject to credit risk through its loans to customers, placements with and loans to other banks and investments in corporate bonds and in cases where it acts as an intermediary on behalf of customers or other third parties or issues guarantees. The amount of credit exposure in this regard is represented by the carrying amounts of the assets on the separate statement of financial position. In addition, the Bank is exposed to off statement of financial position credit risk through guarantees commitments, letters of credit and derivatives issued.

To keep credit risks under control, the Bank's policy is to engage in transactions with reliable partners, and request its partners to take guarantee measures as and when required.

The credit risk management system is operating based on the principles of independence and centralization. Accordingly, the development of risk management policies, determination of risk limits and risk monitoring, risk reporting and risk control are implemented independently and centrally at the Risk Management Division. The reports from the Risk Management Division are a basis for RCO to issue key credit decisions.

The Bank measures credit risks, makes allowances and complies with safe ratios for loan and advances to customers and to other credit institutions in accordance with relevant regulations of the SBV.

The Bank's overall approach to credit risk is a risk-based approach. Accordingly, credit approval or credit valuation decisions as well as the behavioral methods in monitoring and classifying credits and controlling credit risks are being designed following the risk levels of customers. To this end, key activities being implemented by the Bank include the followings:

(b) Currency risk

Currency risk (commonly referred to as exchange-rate risk) is the risk of losses due to negative changes in the fair value of positions measured in local currency due to exchange rate fluctuations. Foreign currency positions as well as positions in gold and other precious metals bear exchange rate risk. Exchange rate risk arises in case the portfolio or specific position contains spot or future cash flows denominated or indexed to currency other than local currency. Exchange rate risk originates both in Trading Book and Banking Book. Exchange rate risk directly affects the statement of financial position and statement of profit and loss since assets, liabilities and earnings in foreign currency need to be converted into the reference currency.

Currency risk management

Exchange rate risk is managed by the means of limits on open FX position in every currency as well as total open FX position. The Bank's management has set limits on position for each currency in accordance with the Bank's business strategy and the SBV's regulations. VND is the major currency of transactions within the Bank; USD is transacted by loans, deposits and derivatives; other currencies are very tiny proportion of the Bank's assets and liabilities. Open currency positions are monitored on a daily basis and hedging strategies used to ensure positions are maintained within established limits.

Exchange rates of major currencies as at the reporting date are presented in Note 47.

The following assumptions and conditions are applied in the maturity analysis of the Bank's assets and liabilities:

- ▶ Balances with the SBV are classified as payment deposits with a maturity of up to 1 month, which includes required reserve deposits. The balance of required reserve deposits depends on the composition and maturity of the Bank's customer deposits;
- ▶ The maturity of securities held for trading is considered to have a maturity of less than 1 month because these securities are held in the short term for profit taking on price differences.
- ▶ The maturity of investment securities is based on the maturity dates of each type of securities. In particular, securities issued/guaranteed by the Government, although classified as long-term according to the remaining term, are liquid assets on the market and can be completely converted into cash within a short period of time.
- ▶ The maturity of balances with and loans to financial institutions, other credit institutions and loans to customers is determined based on the contractual maturity date. Actual maturity date may change due to loan contracts being extended/prepaid;
- ▶ The maturity of capital contributions, equity investments is considered to be over five (5) years because these investments do not have a definite maturity or a time specified in the Investment Resolution of the Bank;
- ▶ The maturity of deposits and loans from financial institutions, other credit institutions, customer deposits, Government borrowings and other assets are determined based on either the nature of the assets or the maturity date on the contract. Payment deposit accounts are processed according to customer requests and are classified as demand deposits. Maturity for loans and term deposits is determined based on the contractual maturity date. In practice, they may be rolled over and maintained for longer periods than the original maturity;
- ▶ The maturity term of fixed assets is determined on the remaining useful life of assets;
- ▶ The maturity term of issued securities is determined based on the contractual maturity;
- ▶ The maturity term of other liabilities is classified as up to one month;
